Continuation of 11, does NOT place the application in condition for allowence because: Applicant argues that neither Kinoshita nor Stevens mention that a roal lever may be executed to be elastic to effect a pressure force from the wiper arm on the windshield. However, Stevens, col. 2, lines 40-47, discloses the above limitation as follows: "The combination of this dished shape and the resilient material holds the arm in the stable configuration shown in full lines in FIG. 1, with the full g 2 at the tip of the arm resiliently biased downwardly relative to socket 6. This is the position which the arm should adopt in use, so that region 12 and length 11 together act as a spring to press the wiper blade 4 into firm contact with the windscreen 5.
